The hour of 4j o'clock having arrived, Mr. Smith's remarks were cut off by the House taking a recess, after which the tax bill is to be exclusively the subject for consideration. EVENING SESSION.

THE REVENUE TAX BILL.

There was a pretty full attendance of members at 7:30 o'clock p. m., when the House went into Committee of the Whole on the State of the Union, Mr. Dawes (Mass.) in the chair, and proceeded to the consideration of the tax bill, the first section imposing a tax of five cents per paind on cotton being under consideration, the question being on Mr. Lynch's amendment excepting 600 pounds in the mass.

was rejected.

Mr. Urson moved to reduce the tax to uncerpound.

Mr. Stevens opposed the amendment, and favored a tax of eight cents per pound on cotton. Were it not for the Constitutional prohibition, he would be in favor of an ex-

Constitutional prohibition, he would be in favor of an export tax of ten cents.

Mr. Hoppen (Miss.) moved to amend the amendment by reducing the tax to two cents per pound. His conviction was very strong against increasing the tax on cotton, which now amounted to about $1 per bale, while the tax of five cents would make it about $22 50 per bale. Cotton was the only article on which the bill imposed an increased tax. It was a mistake to suppose that this country had a monopoly of cotton, and the tax must come from the producers.

Mr. Mornice opposed the amendments. If the tax had is Mr. MOURILL opposed the amendments. If the tax had been fixed for three years, at five cents, the country would have been richer by many millions. The testimony taken before the Commission showed indisputably that the tax would have come out of the pockets of foreigners.

Mr. Hooper's amendment to the amendment was lost.

Mr. Pike favored a high tax upon cotton, so as to make the revenues derived from the South commensurate with the large expenses of the Government in the South.

Mr. Large (Lova) looked upon cotton as an excepthe large expenses of the Government in the South.

Mr. Kassos (lowa) looked upon cotton as an exceptional article, in which the tax ought to be levied on the raw material, but it ought not to be so high as to develop the production in foreign countries, for he did not believe that the country had the permanent monopoly of cotton in the markets of the world. He thought himself that three cents a pound would be the proper rate. He hoped that the high tax would not be justified on the ground of vindictive retaliation against the South.

Mr. BOUTWILL (Mass.) said he could not concur with the Committee on the policy of putting the duty at five cents per pound. Upon all questions affecting the material prosperity of the South he was in favor of the most liberal policy on the part of the Government, and this tax must prosperity of the South he was in favor of the most liberal policy on the part of the Government, and this tax must be considered to some extent a tax upon the producers of cotton, for the tax would increase the production in other countries. He favored putting the duty at three cents a pound.

Mr. Monrill said that persons who had given the subjet great attention differed from the views put forward by Mr. Boutwell. by Mr. Boutwell.

The subject was still further discussed by Messrs. Kasson, Urson, Griswold, Stevens, Wilson (lows), RAYMOND.

and DODGE.

Mr. Griswold suggested that American cotton at 25 cents per pound would have the monopoly of the European markets.

cents per pound would have the monopoly of the European markets.

Mr. SETENS said he was credibly informed that with free labor cotton could be produced for one cent per pound.

Mr. WILE'N (lows) reminded the Committee that the bill was intended to produce a certain amount of revenue, and if the tax on cotton was reduced, it would necessitate an increase in the tax on other articles.

Mr. KATMOND favored the tax of five cents a pound on cotton, at least for the present. It was a very fair medium tax. It seemed that nothing better could be done than follow the recommendation of the Committee of Ways and Means, which had given the subject great consideration. If five cents were not too high, but should prove to be too high, when the next Congress revised the Internal Tax bill it could be reduced.

Mr. Hoopen (Mass.) stated that the estimated revenue for the current liscal year was $501,000,000, but his own

Mr. Hoofer (Mass.) stated that the estimated revenue for the current fiscal year was $501,000,000, but his own impression was that it would not be less than $520,000,000. The Secretary of the Treasury estimated that with an annual revenue of $350,000,000, he could have $50,000,000 to apply to the principal of the public debt. There was, therefore, no reason for imposing an additional tax on cotton, and he hoped that product would not be singled out as the only one on which an increased tax would be imposed.

out as the only one on which an increased tax would be imposed.

Mr. Dodde (N. Y.) took the ground that a high tax on cotton would necessarily stimulate its production in foreign countries, and therefore it would be a very dangerous experiment to put on a high tax. The competition from India would be very great, and he was convinced that nothing could give British capitalists greater pleasure than to see the American Congress impose a tax of five cents on cotton. He thought it certainly should not be higher than three cents.

The question was taken on Mr. Upson's amendment, and it was rejected. So the tax on raw cotton was fixed at five cents per pound.

The House passed to the consideration of the subsequent sections regulating the details for assessing and collecting the lax on cotton.

There were no amendments other than verbal or unimportant ones offered to the second, third, fourth and fifth sections.

striking out the words "when exported" and the words on exported," so as to allow the draw back on cotton naturatories consumed in this country, as well as on ose exported.

Mr. Harding (Ill.) spoke in opposition to all forms of drawback.

The debate was further continued by Messrs, Paine, nevens, Marshall, Griswold and Raymond.

Mr. Patne inquired of Mr. Morrill what proportion of the cotton produced in this country was manufactured here? Mr. Morrill replied that it varied from one-fourth to one-third. The question was taken on Mr. Lynch's amendment and it was rejected.

Mr. Allison moved to amend by striking out the sixth section allowing a drawback on exported manufactures of cotion. He was not prepared he said, to vote to take money out of the Treasury for the benefit of cotton manufactures, particularly as it appeared that the United States facturers, particularly as stappeared that the United States could now compete with foreign manufacturers. This was the testimony of Mr. Atkinson, a cotton manufac-Mr. Brane showed that that statement was an absurdity on its face, inasmuch as it required an average tax of 28 per cent on foreign manufacturers of cotton to enable domestic manufacturers to compete with them in American The amendment of Mr. Allison was rejected.

The Committee then rose and the House at 10 o'clock

A New Fenian Panic.

Owen Sound, Tresday, May 8, 1866.
There was a panic here last night over Fenian reports. Parties arrived from down the coast and made affidavits before the magistrates that they had seen seven Fenian war vessels in Georgian Bay, heading for this point. Intense excitement followed, as all the volunteers are on frontier duty. Volunteers from the interior towns were sent for, the citizens turned out and the entire population paradled the streets all night and to-day. Some are so hadly frightened that they have buried their valuables. The excitement abated a little, as Sweeny's Chicago flotilla is not yet in sight, but is hourly expected by the terrified citizens.

METROPOLITAN BOARD OF EXCISE

Applicants from the Eighth, Ninth and Twenty eigth Precincts-Meeting of the Board-Nine Handred Licenses Granted.

The liquor-dealers from the Eighth, Ninth and Twenty-eighth Police Precincts appeared before Commis-sioners Acton and Manierre, yesterday morning, for the pur-pose of hearing the conclusions of the committee in regard to their claims to licenses. Some of the keepers of draw-shops had retained certain well-known lawyers to present their claims, but as these legal gentlemen listened to the decisions in other cases they invariably decided that those of their clients were hopeless, and they left the room without asking for a blank application. Only three dealers appeared from the Ninth, and twelve from the Twenty-eighth Precincts, the latter being principally grocers who preferred to sell liquor latter being principally grocers who preferred to sell liquor rather than continue their previous business. The attendance upon these morning meetings has recently fallen off greatly, as most of the run-sellers have reached the condition that it is necless to attempt to induce the committee to listen favorably to their petitions. Every dealer who has not heretofore borne an excellent reputation is turned away, so that those who know themselves intimately, as they are known by the police, do not now take the trouble to apply.

MRETING OF THE BOARD OF EXCISE.

The Board of Excise met yesterday afternoon immediately after the adjournment of the Board of Health, all the members being present.

eing present.

Mr. ACTON presented the names of 900 persons—147 from Beriag present.

Mr. Actors presented the names of 900 persons—147 from Brooklyn—whom the Committee on Applications represented as suitable persons to be intrusted with licenses. This makes a total of 2,000 licenses thus far granted by the Board. The actual receipts for licenses amount to about $30,000.

Mr. Boswouth stated that he had examined the Liquor law of this State as far back as 1786. From that year until 1624 on person was allowed to sell liquor save tavern-keepers, and the law was uniform throughout the State. The power to grant licenses for the City of New York was toen rosted in the Mayor and Aldermen, who were authorized to charge $10 for each license, and this law continued in force until the passage of the Probibitory Law of 1855. In 1837 the Legislature came to the conclusion that it was not best for as to manage our own affeirs, and they passed a law which permitted but one license to one person. The business, however, has recently been carried on in defiance of all law, until the power to grant licenses was vested in this Board by the last Legislature. The language of the present act is peculiar. The Board has the power "to grant licenses to any person or persons, of good moral character, permitting him and them to sell and dispose of strong and spirituous liquors in quantities of less than five gallons." From this reading it seemed clear that the Board could grant licenses to any person, or in other words, the same person might have license to sell in one or more places. Under this ruling one person already has received four licenses.

The Treasurer was authorized to purchase a safe for his office; after which the Board adjourned.

THE NATIONAL GAME.

An Interesting Game on the Excelsior Grounds. Though the weather yesterday was chilly and unleasant, there was a goodly muster of ball players on the Excelsior grounds, and a very fine game was played, the fielding in a majority of the innings being spiendid, and the batting first class. The Excelsiors are busy at work organizing a nine for the season, chiefly with a view of winning back the lost trophies in the hands of the Athletic club. We give the score of the game of yesterday:

The first of the annual series of club contests between the married and single members of this club will be played to-day, on their grounds at Hoboken. Should the weather be fair there will be a large muster of players and a fine display of the beauties of the game may be anticipated. Wickets will be pitched at 11 a m.

THE NEW YORK CLUB IN BROOKLYN.

The Brooklyn branch of this club will open play on their grounds at Bedford this afternoon at 1 p. m.

THE WILLOW CLUB.

This club had their opening match at Bedford on the 5th inst. sides being chosen by Messre. Gesborne and Henderson, the latter party proving victorious by a score of 83 to 40. Stevenson's 24 and Sweetland's 13 were the double figures on the winning side; R. Gesborne's 8, not out, being the best score on the part of the defeated party.

SHOOTING APPRAY.

Hencounter in Churchest, between Colored Men-Oue of the Parties Dangerously Shot.

For some time past, ill-feeling has existed between John Pernell and Alonzo Prime, both colored, on account of jealousy on the part of Pernell. The latter is quite advanced jealousy on the part of Pernell. The latter is quite advanced in years, and has lately believed that his wife was altogether too intimate with Prime, and warned him to keep at a distance. On Sanday night last the parties met on the way bome from Zion's Church, at the corner of West Tenth and Bleeckersta, and Prime again spoke to Mrs. Pernell. This seemed to annoy her husband considerably.

On Monday evening, white Prime was returning from Gould's saloon in Nassan-st., where he was employed as head waiter, to his residence, No. 21 Leonard st., in the roar of St. Paul's Church, in Church-st., he met Pernell. It is charged that the latter assaulted Prime and stabbed bim in the back with a small knife, indicating a slight wound. Prime then drew a seven-barreled revolver and fired four abots at his opponent, one of which took effect in the knee, inflicting a sight wound. Pernell then run tips flight of steps near by the right check of Pernell passing inward, and sinicting a very dangerous wound.

Hearing the report of fire-arms, Officer Quian of the Third Precinct came up is time to arrest Prime, who was locked up for the night. The wounded man was conveyed to the New-York Hospital, where his wound was probed, but no trace of the half could be found. It is feared that it has passed into the spinal column and in that event the patient cannot recover. He lives at No. 217 Sulfivan-st. Yesterday Prime was taken before Justice Dowling and committed to await the result of the injuries he inflicted.

American Piance and Pinnists in Europe. The few years that have elapsed since what were deemed pianos of the first-class were imported from Europe to those pretending to refined musical taste, have been suffimanufacturing industry, and American planes and makers now take the lead, instead of following in the wake of those of Europe. The models the latter gave us in the infancy of our manufacture have been so vastly improved upon here that European makers have been content to copy these improveand the results of our inventive genius; but like all means, they have fallen far short of two amounts the latter being regarded as far superior to the European make by the very same artists who, when they made profes-sional tours in this country, deemed it necessary to bring a European plane with them to play upon, thinking one of American make unfit for their use. It was thus with Hertz, Leopold De Meyer, Aifred Jael, Thalberg and others who now freely, and with good grace, admit the superiority of the American instrument. So, also, in regard to American pianists; wherever they have performed in Europe, they have challenged admiration, and achieved success; and were Mills, Gottschalk, Mason, Goldback, Hoffman, &c., to make a European tour, they could not fall in visions with the formant. beck. Hoffman, &c., to make a European tour, they not fall in vieing with the foremost European celebrities, and surpassing the majority. All of our musical readers will remember the boy pianist, Willie Pape, whose remarkable talent excited the surprise of our musical world a few years since, and who left this his native land fire years ago to seek fame and fortune in Europe. The youth is now a man, and the American boy is now Court pianist to the Royal family of England, by command of the Prince and Princess of Wales, In an interesting letter of his under date of London, Feb. 4, he says:

"Messes. Siminway & Sons: I am much pleased to see the rapid advances you are making, and the numerous certificates you have so deservedly obtained. Should my humble opinion be of any weight, you may aid that I give my four handredity plano-forte recital at Chettenham on the 10th of this month since my arrival here; that during my four annual visits to Paris I have used the Grand Planos of all the first European manufacturers, but have found no instrument equal to the one I purchased of you. In fact, I consider one of your finest Square Planos equal to any one of the grand planos manufactured here. Truly yours.

Five Points House of Industry.

Anniversary exercises were held in the chapel of this institution yesterday afternoon. Several lady and gentle-man visitors attended, and were highly interested in the singman visitors attended, and were highly interested in the singing and recitations of the little children. Their good deportment and tidy appearance also acted favorably on the impressions of those present. Superintendent Holliday, the Rev. Mr. Porter of South Carolina, and Mr. J. L. Suydam, esq., delivered short addresses on the occasion. This and to-morrow afternoons the anniversary exercises will be continued, and those whose sympathies are enlisted with the charitable objects of the institution should attend. Speakers will be present on each day, beside which the children will offer other attractive exercises.

Robert J. Collins, Joseph Clement and Henry Tossell, residents of Jersey City, went on a pleasure sail to Stateu Island on Sunday last. On their return, toward evening, when abreast of the inner point of Bedloe's Island, the boat was struck by a sudden flaw of wind and capsized.

Three of the men, Mountford, Collins and Clement, attempted to get on the bottom of the boat but not succeeding, were drowned. Tossell managed to get hold of the boat, to which he clung, partly submerged, until a boat, which put off from the island, was enabled to rescue him, and he was conveyed to the island in an exhausted condition, and was brought to his home on Monday, and is still in a feeble state.

The bodies of the drowned men were not recovered. The parties were employes in the Atlautic and Great Western Railway Locomotive Works, in Warrenest. Mountford leaves a wife and four children; Collins, a wife and five children; Clement was a single man.

Cholern. HOW TO PREVENT AN ATTACK.

In the presence of the Cholers, it behooves every family and indi vidual to be prepared for its approach and possible attack. The first and most important treatment will be by others than doctors. For if the disease provails, physicians will be run down with business, gone away, or engaged elsewhere, so that attendance the first hour or two by competent physicians will be the exception rather than the rule. The question is, shall this treatment be intelligent, prompt and efficlent, or subject to whims, caprices or accidents of the hour! Besides, much may be done by proper hygienic observance in food, living and babits, and especially by the use of the proper preventives to protect the system and prevent an attack.

HUMPHREYS' HOMEOPATIMC CHOLERA SPECIFICS have been prepared by a physician of large acquaintance with this disease expressly to meet this want.

A FAMILY or POCKET CASE is provided with three visit; one o be used as a preventive, a single drop or two morning and night to fortify or protect the system against the disease, another for the distribes which precedes the attack, and a third to use for the fully developed cases, and the whole is accompanied by a little book of di ections giving the history and symptoms of the disease, directions for iving, and the full and complete management of the diarrhea or the fully developed disease; the whole in language to direct and simple that any person of ordinary intelligence can efficiently administer

This PROPHYLACTIC or PREVENTIVE TREATMENT than seen in use among Homeopaths in every invasion of Cholera since 1832, and has been the means of saving an untold amount of human life and suffering. Besides, the moral effect of the sasurance that a family or individual has by them the efficient means of preventing or recessfully meeting an attack of the disease is worth done as a pro teation many times the cost involved.

It is confidently believed that with the use of these Specifics not on person in Afty will be attacked, and of those attacked and treated by this method not one in twenty will be lost. PRICES.

Dr. Dillamback has a high reputation for his successful treatment of diseases of the threat and lungs by medicated inhaladons, and from facts within our own knowledge, we think his reputation is well deserved. Thoroughly educated in his profession, and beging his practice upon the most approved school of medicine, he has given to the public and to his medical brethren the rich results of his long and one constitution requires in the volume now hefore as.

From The Boston Zion's Herald.

We have read this book with great interest. The first part, describ, ing diseases of the air passages, is simple and perspicuous; the latter part, describing many remarkable curves, is interesting, for ourselves, we admire the rules by which all regular physicians are governed, and are totally opposed to that quackery which makes great pretensions using secret remedies, and relying upon the credulity and fears of the people. This book contains the author's remedies, and, so far as we can judge, is reliable as it certainly is interesting.

Numerous well-attented cures are recorded, by which complete cures have been effected by his mode of treatment.

From The Wortcaster Soy.

Dr. Dillenback has become distinguished as one of the ablest edvecties and most extensive practitioners of the system of medicated inhalations for diseases of the throat and imags, a system which, like six new systems in medicine, has met with zealous opportion from a large portion of the profession. The work before us is a sciantific defense of the system, divested as much as possible of the technicalities of science, so as to adapt it to the comprehension of the general reador. As such, it has strong claims on the public and the profession, for, in a question so essentially vital to the well-being of the community, it important that it be theoroughly investigated and well understood.

From The Newburyport Heraid.

Medical finishition is fast becoming the orthodox mode of treating Consumption, Bronchitis, and other affections of the throat and image. This volume contains a clear and full exposition of the ceases and nature of these diseases, and the correct mode of their treatment. Dr. Dillenback has given his exclusive attention to fine class of disorders, and is rightly considered by the profession as the highest authority in everything appertaining to their management.

From The Boston Traveller.

Medicated Inhalation is coming to be considered one of the meet, $\mathbb{S}$ not the most, efficacious methods of testment for Pulmonary Ces, sumption, Bronchitis and similar diseases of the Throst and Lungs. No small share of this change in public sentiment is owing to the labors and writings of Or. Dillenback. In this volume Dr. Dillenback has clearly set forth the many advantages of this method of practice, and treated the phenomena and management of these diseases with clear ness and perspicoity, and has also recorded numerous cases of remarkable and complete curses, which it has been his good fortune to effect.

This is a handsome volume, in which the newly discovered treatment of Consumption. Bronchitis, Asthma, Cetarth and Clergyman's Sore Throat is treated with ability by a scientific and practical physician, who is paying particular attention to this class of most formid-
